

Tech company Aeon Nexus expands office footprint in El Segundo

Tech company Aeon Nexus is doubling its footprint in Los Angeles' Silicon Beach.

The company, which also has an office in Albany, New York, is opening at 101 Continental Blvd. in El Segundo. The public-sector technology company focuses on modernizing legal and justice system operations through secure, scalable, user-centered case management platforms.

The company's previous office was located at 2121 Rosecrans Ave. in El Segundo.

Aeon Nexus has 36 full-time employees companywide and six in El Segundo. With the expansion to a 4,330-square-foot office, the company plans to strengthen its West Coast operations and hire more staff to meet demand for its legal case management solutions.

"This expansion reflects the continued growth of Aeon Nexus as a national technology company and our long-term commitment to modernizing the criminal justice system," said CEO Omar Usmani. "By strengthening our West Coast presence, we're reinforcing our commitment to public-sector partners and investing for the long term in the people, relationships and infrastructure that support our national mission to deliver smarter, faster, fairer and a more accessible justice for everyone."

The new El Segundo office is in a Class A building with a two-story lobby and floor-to-ceiling glass with panoramic views. Office amenities include a gym with showers and locker rooms; on-site security; concierge services; outdoor workspaces with fire pits and barbecue areas; shaded pavilions; a coffee bar; café and surface and underground parking.

Aeon Nexus supports public-sector clients including the Los Angeles City Attorney's Office, Oregon Department of Justice, Seattle City Attorney's Office and other agencies in the Western U.S.

Albany Business Review Article